: "Oh, come quick; there is a fire Then she ran to the street and Mr. Bennett gave the alarm at the engine bouse. The response was quick, but the blaze had such headway that $250 damage was done, and if the engine company had not been so near, the house would probably have been gutted.

One of the most daring burgaries in Brooklyn for a long time was committed yesterday just before noon, when two robbers entered the chapel of the Olivet Church, at No. 506 Bergen street, and broke open several desks in their hunt for booty. The chapel is directly in the rear of the Tenth Precinct Station House.

Two men, who described themselves as shout at me before I could understand. Conversation was simply a murmur; I could not catch a word. I had been treated by specialists, but the improvement was only slight.

"Well along in years, I did not hope for a cure. I wished simply to prevent, if possible, total deafness. The wonders that are being done by the Copeland Physicians made me believe that they might be able even in my case to give help. They have made it possible in a comparatively short time for me to hear my watch tick, to understand the conversation of the person addressing me, and to hear the voices of the children playing in the street."
